PROJECT

Employee Management System

Developed a full-stack Employee Management System to perform CRUD operations for employee records.

The application allows administrators to add, update, view, and delete employee details.

Integrated a responsive UI built with Angular and connected it to a Spring Boot backend with RESTful APIs. MySQL was used for persistent data storage, and the project followed MVC architecture to ensure clean separation of concerns.

Portfolio Website

Designed and developed a personal portfolio website to showcase projects, skills, and achievements as a Java developer.

The site features smooth navigation, responsive design, and interactive elements built using JavaScript. It reflects a clean UI/UX and follows modern web development practices, making it accessible across different screen sizes and devices.
